Letters to the Editor

Opinions expressed in this publication are not necessarily those held by the Residents' Association Committee. Alternative viewpoints are always welcome but anonymous letters will not be printed. The Editor reserves the right to withhold names and addresses where appropriate.

Several residents have contacted me concerning my decision to close the correspondence on the extension to a house in Partridge Drive. It was never my intention to imply any agreement with the views expressed by any of the contributors. I apologise to all concerned for any distress that may have been caused by such an implied agreement. Martin Avery, Editor

Dear editor,

I feel I must write and say so many are ready to condemn the young people of our village but not many ready to give praise. On 31st October, Halloween night, we were visited by two groups of young ones: first six and then three. All were dressed superbly, with excellent manners and friendliness. It was a pleasure to treat these nine young people. They know who they are. I don't.

Yours sincerely, A D Barrett

Dear editor,

When the wheeled bins arrived last week I decided I must put aside my reservations and do my bit for the environment. So this Wednesday, 5/11 I put out my green bin with recyclable waste as instructed. When I wheeled the bin back in I realised that it had not been emptied. This was thanks to someone who had deposited a black binbag full of nonrecyclable waste inside! This bag had also split causing a filthy mess for us to clean. This was a thoughtless thing to do and whoever did it should be ashamed. I'm now wondering whether the green bin is worth bothering with if this sort of thing is going to happen regularly. I feel more inclined to put everything into bin bags in the black bin, which incidentally will now only be collected fortnightly, thus having to visit the tip in between, especially if we have to deal with someone else's rubbish as well as our own!

I am constantly amazed by the mentality of some people.

Pauline Dempsey

JOTTINGS FROM YOUR COUNTY COUNCILLOR

Overcrowded, dirty, unreliable, late, a fiasco. All these words have been used recently to describe public transport. No, they weren't used in relation to buses they were a description of the disaster that our rail network has become. I am not opposed to rail, far from it. Indeed I am writing this on a train coming back from London just a shame that the train this morning was twenty minutes late on a journey time of an hour, as is quite common these days. Nevertheless, I would not think twice about getting a train to London, rather than going by car or by bus. But if I were travelling to Scotland, I might well consider flying, rather than the car or train. It's horses for courses: I choose the mode of transport that I consider to be most suitable for the circumstances and I suspect that I am not alone. I guess that most people have used a train they know what it's like and it's a concept with which they are familiar. By contrast, guided bus, although a tried and proven technology is not as common, with only a handful of systems in this country, although they are fast growing in popularity.

The latest example is the Crawley Fastway, designed to provide a realistic alternative to the car for the many people working at Gatwick Airport. It is too early to say what effect it will have, but in Leeds, where the system has been running for longer, there has been a 75% increase in patronage. Many other towns and cities are currently at various stages of guided bus schemes. Some of the schemes are part of a larger integrated transport package, others are justified in their own right. The Cambridge to Huntingdon rapid transit scheme, whilst on the face of it appearing to be a standalone system, does form part of an integrated plan for the whole of the Cambridge sub-region. The Structure Plan, which has just been adopted, provides for considerable development both to the north and south of Cambridge.

The guided bus will link all that new development, providing for a seamless journey either northbound or southbound, in a way that no other proposals, past or present, would allow for. On day one, for example, the guided bus will link both Hinchingsbrook and Addenbrookes Hospitals, it will link residential development with all the main centres of employment between Cambridge and Huntingdon and will allow people to use public transport for work or for leisure, without the need to change modes of transport. Crucially, however, and in response to the many, many letters that have been written on this subject, for once, guided bus will allow for the transport infrastructure to be in place before the houses are built. Failure to match new houses with the infrastructure to go with it has been one of the main complaints (entirely justified) of previous developments. The guided bus will ensure that this time, public transport will go hand in hand with new development.

May I finally take this opportunity to wish all readers a Happy and Peaceful Christmas and a Prosperous New Year.

I am always available for consultation, either in person or by phone, letter or e-mail. I can be reached at the address or telephone number below.

Cambridgeshire Annual Neighbourhood Watch Conference

The annual conference is a popular event and the hall at Hinchbrook was again filled to capacity. Tom Lloyd, the Chief Constable, was chairman and his presence at each function shows just how important the Neighbourhood Watch organization is deemed to be.

This year's session concentrated on anti-social behaviour (ASB), a difficult concept to define precisely, but which loosely includes any action annoying or inconvenient to the average, well-intentioned person, e.g. spitting, swearing, hanging around in gangs, litter, graffiti and aggressive begging. We hear of so many examples via the media. The Home Secretary takes the matter seriously indeed, as ASB affects almost everyone on a daily basis, whereas, fortunately, any one individual is unlikely to suffer regular serious crime.

As three hours of talks and pages of handouts cannot easily be precised, a few salient points only are presented here respecting effective action against ASB.

That public agencies such as the Fire Service, Police, Council Departments (Housing, Highways, Environmental Health etc.) will work in good liaison to mitigate crime. e.g. the police will inform Highways about abandoned vehicles which will then be removed, hopefully before the arsonists strike.

That an appeal to the offender's better nature might be all that is required, e.g. the neighbours may not realise that their overhanging trees, garden full of derelict cars or loud music are annoying to others.

Alternatives may be found, e.g. in Yaxley a worked-out brick pit was loaned from a quarry company as a BMX circuit so that youngsters no longer had to use residential streets and pedestrian underpasses for riding.

Anti-Social Behaviour Orders have been available since 1999. These apply to named individuals and application for an order can be made by the police, local authority, registered social landlord or British transport police. The order, lasting a minimum of two years can cover a local area or up to the entire country and defines what the offender is restricted from doing. If the order is breached then a fine or custodial sentence is imposed.

Crime flourishes where ASB is tolerated. This means that graffiti, litter and other untidiness should be cleared away ASAP and other unpleasant behaviour, swearing, spitting and minor vandalism reported to the police in every case. The police are unlikely to attend every instance of ASB but will certainly deal firmly with persistent offenders so that crime does not escalate, and so need to know where problems exist.

Report matters to the appropriate authorities:

Local Authority: Deals with

1. Housing under their control
2. Street cleaning and refuse, some graffiti
3. Highways including road safety, traffic calming, abandoned cars when on a highway, lighting in fear-of-crime hotspots
4. Education, including about citizenship
5. Social Services
6. Youth Services and Leisure Services
7. Elected members may be approached about your concerns

Police: they deal with crime which has taken place and also will offer advice through the Crime Reduction Officer so that the likelihood of crime is reduced.

Fire and Rescue put out fires, but also provide risk assessments and advice of fire avoidance. one of the sessions was by a Community Fire Safety Officer: Install at least one smoke detector and test it weekly to ensure that it works. Have a clear escape plan in case of emergencies. Do not leave appliances switched-on when unattended. Keep wheelie bins secured well away from other buildings.

Do contact your Neighbourhood Watch co-ordinator if you are unsure who to approach about any public order matter. If you are not already a member of Neighbourhood Watch and wish to avoid and mitigate crime then contact your co-ordinator who will, for a modest fee, provide a welcome pack on personal and property security. Membership will enable you to obtain a discount on your home insurance premium from many companies.

Keith Morris.

Parking

We seem to be having problems once again with parking in various areas of the village, namely Otter Close, Partridge Drive, the Spinney and Almond Grove. May I ask residents to be courteous to your neighbours and consider very carefully where you are parking your vehicle, if not on your own drive or in your garage.

Litter Busting Day

The Parish Council are planning to have a Litter Busting Day sometime in April. We are giving you early notice as volunteers are needed and if you would like to help keep the village tidy please contact the Parish Clerk. Watch this space for the date.

Anti-Social Behaviour

The Parish Council has been in communication with the Police Authority, Neighbourhood Watch and the Church to try and establish where we can improve areas of anti-social behaviour. The Parish Council have already invested in CCTV cameras and improved lighting around the Church/Health Centre area but If you witness any anti-social behaviour, or indeed any crime, please report the matter to the police, and make sure you receive an incident/crime number. The more reported incidents the police receive the more likely they are to do something about it.

Parish Council Meetings

The next Parish Council meeting will be held on Thursday 18th December 2003 at 7.00pm in the Village Hall. The public is very welcome to attend the meeting.

Birds

Walking around the countryside at this time of year, you are likely to see and hear the fieldfare, a large bird bigger than a blackbird which has chestnut-coloured wings and back, and a black tail on top of a generally speckly appearance. What you will usually see first is the flash of white beneath its broad wings, making a pleasant sight on a winter walk.

All the same, the fieldfare does give the impression of bad-temperedness, with a dark stripe across the eyes it gives the bird a cross-patch look with knitted brows and, so to speak, gritted beak, but it is also there in the tone of its 'chak-chak' call.

Other birds share that 'chack' noise: Jackdaws, flitting across sodden fields, manage to give it a high-pitched, spiteful note, as though they had just mugged an owl (perhaps they have); the magpie's 'chaka-chaka-chak' has mocking laughter in it; a song-thrush or blackbird's long, full blooded 'chak' is full of anger and surprise, but you sense that they will soon get over it, once you're on your way; but only the fieldfare sounds as though it has a grudge against the world.

They don't mind wet, cold weather. If they did they wouldn't come to Britain in winter. They bounce about in frost or light rain, in twig-rattling winds and can fly through blizzards...

*and suddenly a sound there be from out of the darkening misty sky.
 The fieldfares that have crossed the sea are flying by*

*On woods and fields around, you know they'll spend the winter, here they'll stay.
 The days grow cold, soon will come the snow
 That's what they say.*

It's always amusing (if mistaken) to watch the expression on a bird's face and ascribe it to human emotions. Some birds do seem to be more cheerful and amicable than others. I'm sure one reason why we like robins so much is that they seem pert and friendly. They lighten the chill air with sweet, fragmentary song: the avian equivalent of a nursery rhyme. (In Victorian times, when virtually all songbirds were caught and sold commercially, the robin was left unmolested.)

The robin's apparent amiability lies mainly in its body language, but the chaffinch has real expression in its twinkly eye as it coyly tucks its head and peeps sideways at you. Mallard ducks usually manifest maternal contentment. Beatrix Potter's 'Jemima Puddleduck' has them bang to rights, with her basket and bonnet, paddling off to the grocer's.

As you will gather, the countryside in general, and birds in particular, are my favourites. Walk the paths and tracks, even sit in your own garden and watch them, and please don't forget to feed and water them now winter is coming. They get hungry as well. Thanks. See ya.

Bogus Charity Collections

There have been warnings recently concerning a commercial company distributing leaflets, claiming to be collecting on behalf of third world countries; this is not true. This company are collecting for their own gain and have been, and are still being, investigated by the Advertising Standards Authority, for misleading the public. They are also being pursued by Trading Standards and the Charity Commission. This particular company's method is to advertise their collection to be on the same day as another legitimate charity clothing collection and then stealing the bags put out for that charity. Recently in the South Cambridgeshire District this unlicensed collection has coincided with the CHILDLINE collection.

If you wish to confirm any House-to-House or Street Collections in your area please do not hesitate to contact the SCDC Licensing Department on (01223) 443024, who will check the register for you. They will also advise you on what identification/licences collectors should have.

Neighbourhood Watch

Christmas is rapidly approaching! Please remember to be very careful when you are shopping. Remember opportunists lurk in car parks and watch the unsuspecting load up the boots of their cars and then, when the owners have left to do more shopping, cars have been broken into and the goods stolen. Please take care that this doesn't happen to you. I am sure I am now preaching to the converted but please don't leave a pile of Christmas presents on view; either in your home or your car, it is an open invitation to the unscrupulous.

This month I have another tip for you from the Histon Sector. If you receive any e-mails requesting your bank details, be on your guard. In recent weeks, it has come to light that members of the public have received e-mails requesting personal bank details for various reasons. Histon can confirm that the high street banks would never request this type of information via email or Internet. Please take the following steps to secure security of your personal information.

- Never give out personal or banking details over the internet until you are absolutely certain of the person or company you are dealing with.
- When receiving e-mails that you have not instigated either ignore them or ask the sender to also confirm their request on headed notepaper, so that you can verify the nature of the sender.
- If in any doubt, always ask a reliable third party and never feel pressured to provide information that you have not instigated.

I hope that you all have a very happy and safe Christmas

This month we've been talking about Autumn and have been on nature walks and on a spider hunt. Gary Renison visited our playgroup to talk about Harvest Festival.

We have also been discussing about our Senses and Ourselves. We have learnt about how we are the same and also different. We had a visit to Tesco's Opticians and had fun looking at each other's eyes.

We have also enjoyed doing some cooking.

A Very Happy Christmas from everyone at Sunshine.

Putting principles into practice

Providing a well-planned curriculum enables us to give each child rich and stimulating experiences in which they can explore, plan and learn to make decisions independently.

Our carefully considered environment allows for appropriate intervention by staff, which will engage children in the learning process.

All of our staff hold NNEB or teaching qualifications.

In recognising that all children develop at different rates we provide a caring atmosphere in which everyone feels included, secure and valued.

We respect and understand the important role of parents in their child's early years education.

Happy Hours

The recycled youth club

As Christmas approaches, let me wish all of our readers a very Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year. Let us all remember the true meaning of Christmas. Be happy and communicate happiness.

Annual General Meeting. The 14th Annual General Meeting of the Club, was held on Monday 10th November when about 60 members were present. The Chairman, Sid Hunt, opened the meeting and gave an account of our activities over the past twelve months. The minutes of the last A.G.M., which had previously been circulated, were agreed and signed. The treasurer, Mrs Ruby Hunt, circulated a balance sheet, and reported on the finances, which were in good shape. Two long serving members of the Committee, Olwen Goodwin and Olive Taylor, who had both decided to stand down, were thanked for their many years of service, and were each presented with a bouquet of flowers.

The other members of the Committee were re-elected together with two new members, Mrs Win Holt and Mrs Joan Tanton.

Competitions. Following the AGM, Mrs Elsie Fisher was called upon to present prizes to this years competition winners. They were as follows; Darts (Men) - Ernie Arnold, Darts (Ladies) - Ruby Hunt, Dominoes - Beryl Cundy, Scrabble - Len Sherman, Crib - Joan Smart, Table Tennis - Ernie Arnold, Rummikub - Nell Young. There had been a total of 102 entries for the various competitions, which were played over several weeks. Well done to the winners, it is good to see a few new names on the trophies.

Outings. Our outing to Boundary Mill, Lincolnshire, took place on Wednesday 15th October. This large shopping complex gave our members an ideal opportunity to start their Christmas shopping spree. On our way back home, we stopped at the delightful town of Stamford for tea and cakes. On Wednesday 12th November, we travelled to the City of Leicester, for the second of our shopping trips. We found an excellent shopping centre, having many of the well-known stores, together with several markets, one claiming to be the largest covered market in Europe. Once again we returned with many full shopping bags.

Holidays. On Monday 24th November, some 38 of our members will be travelling to Eastbourne for our five-day 'Tinsel and Turkey' holiday. Staying at the Haddon Hall Hotel,. There will be two excursions, one to Arundel and one to Royal Tunbridge Wells.

Forthcoming Events. The Happy Hours Club Birthday Party is being held on Monday 17th November, when all members will be treated to an excellent lunch. The Club Christmas Lunch will again be held at the Moat House Hotel, on Monday 15th December Carol Service. The Bar Hill Senior Citizens' Carol Service will be held in the Church at 2.30pm on Tuesday 16th December. It is hoped that all our members will join with other senior citizens of the village, to make this a joyous start to Christmas.

New Member. We welcome Mrs. Vera Brown, who has now joined Happy Hours. She is a lively person who will no doubt enjoy our company. I must record how sorry we are to lose Peggy Newman, who has moved to a nursing home near to her son in Welwyn Garden City. We send her our greetings.

Sickness. How pleased we are to hear that Lily Neal is now back at home and making steady progress following her serious heart operation. We are also pleased to hear that Iris Cakebread is making steady progress and is hoping to be back with us for the Eastbourne holiday.

Bar Hill Table Tennis Club

November 11th saw our first ever open evening, and I thought I would just like to take this opportunity to thank everyone who came along to visit us and see what we get up to. I trust that you all enjoyed your evening with us, and that maybe you might pop in again sometime. I for one wish we had prepared more food, as there was nothing left for my tea!

Those who did come along were treated to an excellent final of the Junior Knockout Tournament, in which Stevie Withers Just 'pipped' Stevie Ostler for the title. Both boys will receive a trophy for there excellent efforts (photo's next issue).

The adult competitions are now under way, and we will bring you a report on how things are progressing as the weeks go on.

Don't forget, the Junior group runs from 7:00pm till 8:00pm, and then the intermediates, and adults, take over from 8:00pm to 9:30pm.

We are a friendly club, just playing for fun. We provide all you need to play, tables, nets, bats and balls, all you have to do is turn up to play.

If you would like more information, please feel free to contact any of us.

More news next issue.

Until then we would like to take this opportunity to wish All of you A Very Happy Christmas, and a prosperous New Year.

BAR HILL F.C

Bar Hill Football Club are going from strength to strength. Both teams remain top of their leagues, with the 1st team still retaining 100% status, this is an outstanding achievement especially after tasting relegation last season, they have now turned this around and are looking likely candidates for Pr.. (not allowed to mention the magic word!!)

The reserve team also have excelled themselves in Div 4A as this is the first season they have played together and have only been defeated once.

Congratulations go out to Joe Salvage of the 1st team who has managed to score three consecutive hat-tricks in his last 3 games, an outstanding result and long may it continue.

Both managers would like to say a big thank you to all the supporters who brave the weather to come and watch us on Sunday mornings, it creates a great atmosphere and sometimes it seems that we have 12 men on the pitch with all the noise they make. Come and watch us on the village green on Sundays kick off 10.30am.

1. How many goals did Gary Lineker score for England? 48

The Royal British Legion Bar Hill Branch

The Chairman opened the meeting with the act of Remembrance followed by apologies for absence from 3 members.

Eddie Patrick our Branch President then gave a short speech on the comradeship of the Branch members and the need for it to continue otherwise we shall cease to exist and to encourage more people to join the Legion, bearing in mind that we are living in a constantly changing world today.

Mike Duce the Chairman reviewed the previous year from last year's Remembrance tide, our stall at the village fete also the various functions that were held through the year from fish & chip suppers, BBQ, as well as various others occasions.

The Treasurer reported a slight deficit in the branch current account, but the reserve account being in credit with a healthy balance. In other words the branch is on a sound base for the new year. He did however propose that the subscription for the year 2004 be £10 plus 50p branch fee which was accepted on a members' vote.

The Election of officers for 2004 is as follows

Chairman Mike Duce
Vice Chairman Tony Shubotham
Hon Secretary Ann Duce
Hon Treasurer Neville Clark
Standard Bearer Mike Conlon
Welfare Officer Ann Barnes
Hon. Poppy Appeal Organiser Terry Barnes

Our Poppy Appeal has now ended apart from the counting of money that is to be collected. On behalf of all our members and friends who gave their time and energy in helping us raise what ever is to be counted I THANK YOU THE VILLAGERS OF BAR HILL AND ALL WHO GAVE. WHAT A BIG HEARTED LOT YOU ALL ARE.

Finally, as promised a brief report on our holiday in Torquay. (It's only 3 months ago.) We had the company of some of members of Happy Hours. Tony Hall was our driver on Eclipse Coaches who had organised it for us, we had laughter all the way there and every day with an occasional 'u turn' in the middle of a main road into Torquay, not forgetting here-we-go-round-the-roundabout a couple of times. The last one was for a last look at the sea.

But most impressive of all the holiday was the Famous Bar Hill Ladies Synchronised Swimming Team, which was not only a surprise for Tony but for all the males on holiday.

We had one more branch meeting on 27th November 2003, we shall recommence in January 2004 on the 28th, time and place to be confirmed. TO ALL MEMBERS THE ANNUAL XMAS/NEW YEAR DINNER IS IN THE OCTAGON ON SATURDAY JANUARY 10th.

On behalf of the members of Bar Hill Branch of The Royal British Legion may I wish you All A MERRY CHRISTMAS AND A HAPPY NEW YEAR.

Terry Barnes, 780221

Social Club

Our fortnightly Jackpot Membership Draw which stood at £425 has been won by Steve Holden, so our next jackpot starts again at £200 increasing by £25 every time it is not won. So like Steve you have to be in the club with your membership card to stand a chance of winning.

We are currently looking for another door steward for 2 or 3 sessions a week if you are interested in this position please come along and have a word with us at the club or alternatively ring Barry or Trevor on 206117. We would be pleased to hear from you.

The Christmas Draw is going well with nearly £1,000 worth of prizes so far with much more still to come. Both the children's and adults' draws are taking place on Friday 19th December.

The children's pantomime is on Monday 29th December at 4 p.m. as usual Father Christmas will be in his grotto giving presents to all who attend.

To see the end of the old year out and the start of the new we are again holding a party in the club and the village hall. Upstairs Mr C J Keene will be entertaining us with his superb vocal skills and in the village hall the Original Sin Disco will be spinning the night away.

This party is a members only all ticket event. The price is £23 or £15 for senior citizens and includes entrance, entertainment and all drinks on the night. Tickets can only be purchased at the bar and you must show your membership card at the time of purchase - no card no ticket.

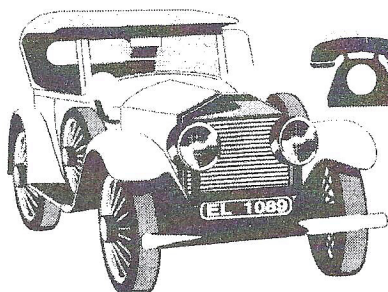

The officers, committee, staff and members of Bar Hill Sports & Social Club would like to wish all readers of the Bar Hill News a very merry Christmas and a happy and prosperous new year.
